Little business will be done for nearly a week The amount of work actually accomplished thus far is very little, though the bills introduced al-ready number over 500, and several have passed, chiefly, herevery bills appropriating small sums of money and others legalizing the acts of blunfor collecting taxes, &c., in particular localities.
On Tuesday the Assembly devoted their time to the printing question, which, in various forms, has occupied more of the time of t. e. Legislature, to less profit, than any other sub-ject. The matter of reducing the fees for adyes. The matter of reducing the fees for adverting was again debated at great-lergth, on a resolution setting forth that it would be unjust and unwise "to change the existing rates," and a number of members took occasion to express the disregard which great men would be likely to feel, of the opinions of the gublishers who had so generally remonstrated against reducion.

The Republicans in the Assembly, being chiefly new men, the two or three, who, by reason of eminence and ability, are 'unabled to take the lead, not thrusting themeelves forward, and those who have assumed to lead not having much popularity—have lacked harmony and cohesies, and so have been a good deal bambocried by the sharp leaders of the Democracy on accural occasions—frightened from doing what they sught, and by fair wards led into some foolish positions. On Wedneaday, they consisted, by way of variety, to present a united frost and do as they pleased, instead of listening to the suggestions of the other side. THE FESTIVAL OF ST. JOHN'S.—The ladies of St. John's Church, Union Park, are to give a grand sutertainment, at Metropolitan Hall, or grand entertainment, at Metropolitan Hall, or the evening of Valentine's day, Feb. 14th. St. John's Church is one of our younger churches of the city, and is a working church. No doubt it will prove a success. Tackets twenty five cents. Let everybody buy one and be on hand. FIRE MATTERS.—During the month of Januar there were 13 fires, and 4 false alarms. Total loss, $6,500. The new steamer lately bough loss, 43,500. The new steamer lately bough by the city has been located in the house latel occupied by Engine, Co. No. 5. A compan-has been organized for her, which has bee designated as Company No. 5. A. F. MR. MATHEWS' LECTURE ON "SUCCESS IN LIPE." The good people of Chicago are under many obligations to Mesars. Bryant, Bell & Stratton nished them during the present winter. Among the many admirable and able speakers who have sken part in the course, we know of no one the same time entertaining lecture, than will be heard by those who listen to Wm. Mathews, Esq., on the topic of "Success in Life," on Tucsday evening next. We speak knowingly, having had the pleasure of listening to the naving nac the pleasure of instening to the effort referred to, which we have no heatistaten in prohouncing a first-class lecture, very far in advance both as regards matter and manner of delivery, of many lectures we have heard delive-ded by foreign stars, whose lips moved to the time of a hundred dollars per hour. Giving evidence of much thought and extensive read-ing, abounding in anecdote and jev d'esprit, this lecture is in a word, one of the most delightful literary entertainments that it has ever been our good fortune to listen to.

FASSETT IN SAVANNAR. -The friends of Messrs. Fassett & Cook, degoerrean artists, are aware that they are spending the winter in Savannah, meeting with great success, and are spending a very pleasant, and we hope profitable winter.—

The following notice is from the Savan uah Republican:

Arrival or ver Hon. S. A. Douolas.—These who have been waiting for this gentleman to iravel southward, te have a look as him, can be gratified now, as his counterfeit presentment may be seen at the picture gallery of Mr. Fassett at the corner of Broughton and Whitaker streets. The picture of Airs. Douglas, 'lady celebrated for her beauty, is also there, t. sides a large number of artistically excuted apsecimens of photography and similar invention:—The colored pictures are very five, and really worth a visit, if for nothing else but to examine such an exhibition of skill. Mrs. Fassett has charge of the coloring cepartment, and her specimens wrince a proficiency which entitle her to encouragement. The rooms are fitted up with tests, and as Mrs. Fassett is always present, it will be a pleasant resort for ladies who are in search of the beautiful.

City Cutuers and Sabbaya School Statistics.—The Monthly Missionary Visitor says:

There are now in the city of Chicago sixty one Protesiant churches, and connected with the mity-nine Sabbath Schools. Besides these there are thirty-one Mission Sabbath Schools. By a pre-arrangement the number of persons in attendance on the churches and sab-bath schools, on the first Sabbath of the present month, were counted, and below we give the figures, very nearly correct:

At thurth on Sabbath marsing.

From these statistics we presume that the nanber ordinarily attending church, at least once on the Sabbath, may be fifteen thousand, or one in eight of the entire population. And from what we know of the degree of regularity with which the children attend Sabbath Sohool, we suppose the number enrolled, as ordinary attendants, may be eleven thousand. It is safe to put the number of teachers, belonging to these schools, at accenten hundred, very nearly. Thus we have in figures the measure of the means of grace enjuyed and improved in this direction.

Nearly two-thirds of all the oblidren in the city, of anitable age, nominally belong to Sabbath Sohools, while not more than one in eight per Protestant Sabbath Schools, 98; number of children added to Sabbath Schools during the year, 2000; amount of charites dispensed by missionaries and visitors, 83,300.

Regular meetings on the Sabbath have been maintained during the year at both the city and county jais, and with encouraging results. Seven of the prisoners have been bopefully converted, and all greatly interested in religious instruction. Also an interesting daily religious service has been held at the city jail by Hev. Mr. Henderson and others. Mr. Henderson and others.
Such is the outline of the results of Missionary labor in the city during the past year. But

The time seems to have, come in which it is proper to put the earnest and honest men of their guard sgainst the dangers by which t circumlocution, in language as plain an aple as we can command:

Throughout all the Northern and North-estern States, there are acting with the Re-blicau party, a large body of prin who are practicable. Knowing that they have not the ower to interfere with Slavery in the States, they still hope that the election of a Republioted with the party, which, without being too adical to hope for success, is the ust radical of all the parties that dare dulgo that hope. They were anti-avery Whigs, old-fashioned Liberty men or ree Sell Democrats, and they are ultra ublicans. They are too numerous and too ential to be disregarded in the computa-of available forces; and too sincere is eir convictions to permit any violation of eir sense of right, without forcing them into struggle for its vindication. We have no eans of knowing how large this class is; we enough to bring to naught any political calcu-lation in the North in which decent respect is not paid to their wishes. They are sincerely dress of preserving their own integrity and elf-respect. They would cordially support my fit man whose anti-Slavery sentiments were bounded by the enunciations of the Re-mblican party, if he were nominated by the ety; but we should doubt the success of th and the inauguration of, a new, just and patriotic Administration, if that union can be effected upon lerms that are consistent with the objects which Republicans have had in view. We do not pretend to say how that union can be nated as its representative. But we are so thoroughly convinced of its necessity in saving the country from the deplorable effects of another period of Democratic misrule, the we shall not cease to labor to make it pracdom and necessity of this policy, can show us how, in the election of an Opposition President, the votes of either of the classes can b d spensed with, we shall insist that ours is the course which wisdom and patriotism prompts. The country cannot afford again to submit to the strain in its political and fluencial relations to strain in its political and fluencial relations to which it has been subjected by the Democratic party. A Republican defeat would be followed by consequences that would leave the North only the choice between submission to a hateful tyraupy or a resort to a bloody revo lution. It will not be our fault if our reader we compiled to accept either alternative.

We are decidedly for defeating the wicked Pro-Slavery party; and we intend to choose the most direct, obvious and certain method of accomplishing that which we most desire.

The N.Y. Courier & Enquirer says it was well known in Washington, three days before Douglas hanched his infamous scheme for a Virginia Mr. Douglas was fully advised of the fact. He was aware that the bill would go straight to the Judiciary Committee, and would be there put in the shape in which the coportunity, an hour or two before Bigler had arranged to put his measure kefore the Senata, to threat in his own resolution. The point we gish to impress upon the froemen of the Northwest is that there was no emergency calling for the extraordinary haste and vindictiveness which Mr. Douglas displayed in lighting and flourishing his new fre-brand.

He acted in the shear wantonness of mischieronic mality. Bigler's schemes were the complete that the shear wantonness of mischieronic mality. ot the nefarious propositions which we have quoted from Mr. Douglas' late speech. The Philadelphia Press was the first political journal in the country to publish the speech, but it has studiously refrained from commending its sentiments from that day to this. The Chicago Times, and two or three other special Douglas organs, have endorsed it as a whole, but not one of them can be induced to make inquest on his own speech, and while he did not retract an iota of his devil sh suggestion for crushing out freedom of political opinion and action, he carefully omitted repeatin them. On the other hand, Mr. Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, has boldly denounced nem, and spurned the gift tendered by the

The Dyer administration made itself odious by its extravagance and corruption. When the municipal election of 1857 came off, John ee, of all others, was the man to put a stop to corruption and extravagance, pay off the sting debt of the city, reduce the taxes, pu a wholesome check on special assessments and place the city government upon an eco-omical basis. He was taken at his word, an put into the office of Mayor. His Inaugural Message was full of reform. All the promiser which he had made during the canvi pledged himself anew to carry out. The Com-mon Council approved of these professions of economy, and by a decided majority passed his pet measures. The subordinate officers e city government accepted his counsel. He ne refractory officials to deal with To e did not fulfil his pledges, it was becau lid not wish to. The power was in his hands be elected Mayor. He is a nightly attend nt upon Ward and Club meetings, and whe ver he goes he talks about corruption and ex-

re from the former status of the church is no an that can save it. We are afraid John entworth has too high an opinion of himsel on opinion that the records of the city govern or will not only not sustain, but which the atly contradict. We are wend that if he is gain made Mayor he will do as he did in 1857. Jevy the heaviest tax that the people of Chiago have ever paid, recklessly increase the pecial assessments, and leave the floating When John Wentworth came into office in arch, 1857, he told the people that he wanted big tax-levy to enable him to meet current expenses and pay of the floating debt that nd come down to him from the Dyer admin ration. The request was granted; and when a went out of office at the end of his term, he ld them the floating debt was all paid off t a Ward meeting a few even ated that he transmitted no floating debt his successor. The records of the city govment prove not only that he did not pay of dance with Wentworth's requ ills for general purposes and two mills for gas lights—seventeen mils in all. The tax warrant for that year amounted to $572,-225.37. It he had fulfilled his promise, out of this sum he would have paid off the floating debt which came down to his Administration of $176,235.37, and met the current expenses of the city. Instead of paying off that debt, d $208,946 80. That was the extent of his exrenchment and economy. The books of the Comptroller, and the Comptroller himself, will rerify this statement. But with characteristic errontery, in his paper and in public speeches, ust at the time Wentworth was going out of odice, he asserted again and again that the city was entirely free from contracts, eit claims and a floating debt. He gave the same assurance to his successor in office; but no mer had the latter entered upon his dutie than he found there was paper past due and actailing payment as follows: 10 Geo. F. Lee, for bonds due since the previous November, $11,152,69; to Geo. Smith & Co., bonds due since March 1st, $66,234.84, to the Sewers Commissioners, for balances of 1856 and 57, $41,033,22; also a large liability to the county for the enlargement of the Court House, besides many unpaid bills and uncompleted e intracts thrown over upon the incoming ad ministration. The financial report of Februa 1859, shows a debt handed over by Went ry 1859, shows a debt handed over by Went-worth to Mayor Haines of $197,030,03; but there must be added $41,916.17 for interest to Sewerage Commissioners, Reform School, amount refunded on assessment for opining Lasalle street, &c., making, as stated above, the entire floating debt banded down by Wartworth to Haines, $208,946,80, Wentworth says the takes are too

Let us see how our taxes under Mayor Haines' administration compare with the tuxes under Wentworth. During Wentworth's administra-tion the taxes were filteen mills for general purposes, and two mills for gas lights. Ha words, the taxes under Westworth for general perposes were tensity-five per cost. Mether than they have been under Haines.

The tax-warrant studer Westworth amounted to $572,225.37. Under Haines, in 1858, $430,298.29; ditto in 1859, $413,530,30. at In other words, the taxakion last year was less than Westworth's year by $121,527.00; and this year it is less, by $56,544.67. Had Haines assessed the same tax that Westworth did, the people of Chicago would have paid during the last two years $200,471.71 more taxes than they have paid, and Mayor Heines would have realized from this source, along, almost cample to pay of the entire facting debt worth did, the people of Chicago would have paid in taxes, during the past two years, $374.-399 00 more than they have paid. Yet Went-

Wentworth says, "Make me Mayor again, and I will sit on your money chest." No doubt he wants to sit there; but, in our opinion the tax payers of Chicago would rather he would att almost any where elso. Their money chest has been gourded more carefully since he left it than when he stood watch over its contents. His cry for "economy and low taxes" is some ply a trick to get close to the money chan-again. He will probably never get any closer to it than he is to-day.

Bitton Preased Tribons:
Since the publication of Dr. Ricc's first two fectures on Slavery in your paper, I have felt not a Bittle carriosity to Know the actual attains of the Old Spinol Preabyterian Church on the subject. Dr. Ricc's platform is as unaxceptionable to makes it is to you. It is all that any Republican or mederate antisalwer, man Could ble to mean it is to you. It is all that any Republican or moderate anti-alayery man could desire. But if his lactures, taken as a whole, are le itimate deductions from that platferm, then it would seem to be liable to as many different interpretations as the famous Cinciumst Platform, on which, you know, the most ultra, alaye code men and the most radical Squatter Soversigniy advocates, profess to studd. Deep Dr. Rice truly represent his church on the subject! And if so, are we to find the pohey and doctrines of the Old School Presbyterian Church in Dr. Rice's platform or in Dr. Rice's lectures? Can you in short enlighten me and the public generally, as to the satural position of that church on Shrey? Yanras.

REMARKS—We can answer the inquiries of our correspondent. The Old School Presbyterian Church was formerly an anti-slavery church. Its clergy, were gealous emancipschurch. Its clergy were realous emancip tionists, and its laily were largely imbu General Assembly was uniformly on the side of freedom. Its counsel to the churches was not darkened by words, and its influence, as a on this subject, consequent upon the pro-mulgation throughous the South of the views of Mr. Calhoun, the Presbyterian churches in that section participated to a groater or less extent. In 1845 the General Assembly yielded to the pressure. It adopted a report which satisfied the South. The churches which still retained their unti-slavery entiments were dissatisfied. The next year the General Assembly resolved that "in its to deny or rescind" the previous testimon against slavery. There the matter has rested to this day. The South, content with the acscinded all that had gone before—the North, quieting its conscience with the resolution of 1846, which faintly denied that the action of 1845 was intended to reseind previous anti-slavery declarations. Some attempts have been made to obtain further action on the part of the General Assembly; but they have been not by that body with the declaration that the toport and resolutions of 1845 were final. The church now maintains its integrity by the silence of the General Assembly on the subject. At the extreme South, its clergy, laity and church organs hold to extreme pro-slavery trines are rigidly adhered to. An attempt on the part of the Ganeral Assembly to reaffirm its action of 1818, would rend Old School Pres-by terianism. " from foundation to turret." Sinee is an essential condition of union.

Our correspondent desires to know whe on the subject of slavery in his late lecture. We think we are authorized to answer in the affirmative. His platform represents the Northern half; his deductions the Southern Northern hair, its described and the whole. Our correspondent also wishes to know whether he is to look to Dr. Rice's platform or to his lectures, for the policy and doctrine of the church on tilis sub church on tilis subject. We answer, his plat-firm is a true reflex of its policy and doctrine prior to 1845—his speeches as truly repres its policy and doctrines subsequent to the Father RAPHARL, Jewish Rabbi, who appeared in full sacerdotal robes. He expressed a portion of the prayer in the Habres language; the remain-der of which, spoken in English, occupied about ten minutes, and abounded with fervent patri-otic and religious sentiments. He besought the Father of Abraham, Issac and Jacob to termiinswered. The Rabbi is a good Rep was answered. The Rabbi is a good Republi-can, an accomplished scholar and an eminent divine in the Hebrew persuasion. His was the first prayer ever offered in Congress by a Hebrew Rabbi. The elergy of all other denomi-nations have repeatedly officiated. The credit of having the Hebrew religion placed on an equal footing in the chaplaincy is due to the Hou. Sabuyler Collax of Ladhas, who interposed with the Clerk, and insisted that the invitation extended to the clergy abould include the

Before the House adjourned on Tuesday the Democrats entered into a piedge to vote for Spouker nast day, desently and in order, with out speech making or factious conduct. But the first Democratic name on the roll was hard-ly called before they broke out into their habituoad manners, and chronic insolvence of de anor. Some wanted to apologize for voting for McClernand; others to interrogate the Republi-can candidate; others wanted to exhibit their ma-lignity and spit their venom at our side. Keitt, Cobb, Hindman, Moore of Ala, and Barksdale were exceedingly insolent and imperious. Seve ral of the fire-enters, with Barksdale at their head, made a desperate effort to force the Ameri head, made a desperate effort to force the Ameri-cans into an alliance with them in order to post-pose the election of a Speaker until Stallworth would arrive next week, and Brown come of age next spring. Barksdale was perfectly fruntle. He stormed and raved like a madman, and cast fiendish scowls at the Black Republicans, cast fieedish scowls at the Black Republicans, who looked as ealm and happy as a May morning. Now and then he would be interrupted sole occ, with the advice to "dry up, old way"—"you can't come it"—"we have got you."

"Take it airy be jabers, and if you can't, be as aisy as ye can." "Oh, shut off your steam whistle." "Cork up your bottle." "Stop your barking, old Bark." A basket of serpents with a shovel full of live coals thrown on them could not exhibit more contortions, and twistings and writhings. But they yould not escape their fate. The inexporable roll call went on, until John V. Wright answered to his name. George Briggs voted for McCleraand, but was under a solemn pledge to change it to Peanington if it would elect him. The vote stood 116 for Pennington, 85 for ReCleraand, 16 for Gilmer, and 16 scattering. Barkade made a final appeal to the Sou'h Americans to change their votes and defeat the election of a Black Republican. Keitt backed him. Hindinam and Cobb implored the obdurate man and Cobb implored the obdurate Americans to save them ore they sank. But it was like calling spirits from the rasty deep. Gentlemen, they answered, we can do nothing for you, and if we could, w rouldn't! A grin of sardonic satisfaction over

Pennington and ending the con-test. The clerk then announced that William Pennington, of New Jersey, having received a majority of all the votes cast, was duly elected ker of the Thirty-sixth Congress. A rock of applanse from the galleries followed this an-nouncement, but was quickly checked by the unblican members calling order. The resumption by the State of the land grant to the Iowa Central railroad, is a subject that is and there is no doubt, but that the State will resume the grant. There are parties here from Dubuque who represent the interests of the railroad company, and also those who represent the interests of the C. J. & N. Railroad, which is a continuation of the Galena Air Liue, who are favorable to the resumption of the grant by the State and their donating the land to them, for the purpose of continuing the road from Cedar Rapids, its present terminus, to the Missouri River. From present indications the C. d. & N. Road will receive it.

The subject of appropriations to the different State Institutions, is also a topic of much difficusion. They will be made, but with as much ceosomy as possible, as in fact nearly all the members came here pledged to the strictest economy.

The question of the purchase of the building which the State now occupies at a capitol, will probably be brought before the Legislature at this session. This was recommended by Gov. Lowe in his message. The building is owned by a company of five legislature is received from the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in 1856, on what was at that time ample real estate security. Owing to the depreciation of the property given as security, and the embarasament consequent upon its erection, it is probable that this is the only way in which it can be collected.

Hon. Mr. Gurley from Davenport, delivered an able address before the State Colonization Society, at its annual meeting, last evening.

This morning a protest was presented by the Democrats against the publication of Governor Kirkwood's message. On motion of Mr. Goodell of Poik County, the resolution authorizing the publication of 7,500 copies of the message, was made the special order of business to-morrow morning at 3 o'clock. An interesting discussion is anticipated.

The statement is 'talid for Mr. Spurgeon, but not for his American publishers. Soon after the publication of the third or fourth volume of Spurgeon's sermons in this foountry, a member of the publishing firm (Shelidon, Blackman & Co.) was in the city of Chicago. On my expressing sur-prise, by reason of the anti-slavery sentiments which would naturally come from the mouth of an English preacher, the gentleman told me that the sermons were carefully revised by his firm, and all the anti-slavery sentences atruck out. He added, however, that the absolute amount thus omitted was not very great.

A Dead Witness Against Douglas.

From the New Oriena Delts, Jan. 20.]

Not long since the Natcher Free Trader, and subsequently the Mississippias, published the following letter, written in 1856, by the late-looh Authory Quitmen, to a valued and confidential friend in Mississippi, in which the writer peaks of an interview with Douglas, and beary testimony to the latter's endorsement of the principle of Federal protection of slavery in the Territonia, and utter opposition to the abominable doctrine of Squatter Sovereignty. The production of this evidence made saything but a seemly and pleasant else for Douglas, who wang that sime stoutly denying he ever held was at that time atoutly denying he ever held any other than his present position on the ques-tion of slavery in the Territories. It was the voice of a dead witness whose name is conse-trated as a symbol of lefty henor and uncompromising reracity, coming to confound alike his special pleasing and angry denial. As po-litical tactics go, if Quitman had a political fault, it was his utter disqualification to play successful role of duplicaty, equivocation, and concealment. Singlepess and unity marked his whole life and churtofer. He could comprehen but one meaning in what was said to him by there; he had but one meaning to convey when is spoke to others. It was the law of his na-her to be frank. shiers; he had not one measure have of his ma-tice spoke to others. It was an intellectual and mo-ral necessity with him to develop his opiniona to their logical atterance. When the point-blank evidence of such a man is brought into court against Douglas, we see no further use of either prosecution or desence. The case might as well rest there, and judgment be entered abount the accused: against the accused:

Ecs. Con.—Perhaps it would increase some of your readers to know why the election of Paulington, of New Jersey, as Speather, gave an ington, of New Jersey, as Speather, gave and either in 1835 or 1836 that Henry Clay became subbranassed to such an extent in the confession. ment had been started in New Orleans by some of Mr. Clay's friends, that they would pay his debts and relieve his embarrassmerts, and Mr. A. H. Trotter, the agent of the Northern Bank in New Orleans, was sent East to confer with Mr. Clay's friends. The consequince was that about fifth thousand deliars were subscribed, and the Hon. Wim, Pennington was bestletc Kentucky with the money, and came to Lexington without exarely any person knowing him. He walked into the Northern Bank, asked for Mr. Scott, the Cashier of the Bank, and upon bising winded toto the Northern Bank, asked for Mr. Scott, the Cashier of the Bank, and upon being shown that gentleman, asked if there were mot several notes of Mr. Clay's that were due in a few days, and was asswered that there were Mr. Scott was requested to give the whole amount of Mr. Clay's indebtedness, which was done, and a draft on one of the New York banks wish handed him, and Mr. Pennington left-the bank with all Mr. Clay's notes past. In a few days Mr. Clay can to town to arrange-for a renewal of the notes, if possible, and was shown in the side room of the bank. After utting a few aniputes he notes, if possible, and was shown in the side room of the bank. After utting a few aniputes he asked Mr. Scott if there could be any arrangement to run the notes for x longer time. Mr. Scott looked at Mr. Clay to see if he was not jesting, and fluing that he was not, told him that a gentleman from Kew Jersey had called yearing and fluing that he was not, told him that a gentleman from Kew Jersey had called yearized yand puid all of his indebtedusts. Mr. Clay started when Mr. Scott spoke, tooked at him a few seconds, burst Into tears, and left the bank overwhelmed. No man

I learn that the trade was never more thriving than now. The American fleet were hourly looked for on the South Coast, and can make a rich harvest if actively employed. The beautiful bark fleshees, which took out some enigrants of the McDonough estate to Mourovia, and consequently had every preparation legally manifested for such a voyage, has lately gone from the Congo, with a cargo of 900 negroes, and among other escapes have been the "Lamcus," (fifted as a whiler), the "star of the East," the "Ottawa," and the "Asa Fitch"—all with full cargoes. I am also informed that the famous "Orion" recently sent home by the "Marrion," and escaped condemnation, has just arrived out in the Congo again, with the same captain, the same kind of fittings, and as bold as such an escape and daving can make her; and what is more, these captains make no secret of their intentions. Not an English cruiser can touch them as long as the American flag is fly-ing, even if they have a full cargo of slaves about their decks, and the American cruisers are on board, since up matter what fittings they may have for the trade, they are sure to exape in the courts, and then the U. S. officers must cudure suit without a government to back them up. I suppose it will not be long ore I shall have to report another dapture, and so repeat them in every lotter.

A Bloody Tragedy in Louisiana. We gave a brief account, a few days since, of a desperate fight that occurred on the 24th of Dec., some 45 miles above Alexandria, in which seven men lost their lives. Among them were three brothers named Peavy, notorious desperaseven men lost liter lives. Among them were three brothers named Feary, not.crous desperadoes, who have set the law and its officers at defiance for some time. The Fearys are from Mississippi, and they had been charact with stealing and committing a number of depredations, and a vigilance committee waited on them with an invitation to leave the parish. From the Alexandria Democrats we gather the following account of the desperate affair:

"The whole number of this lawless band was now about fifteen, and they openly bid defiance to law and everything that should oppose them. They threatened some of the best citizens with invitable death, and the whole country with an insurrection by Calhoun's negroes. There was a general feeling of anxiety and unexames fell by all. Students Expelled.

Kenyon College, tocated at Gambler, has been the acepe, during the week, of quite a tamult between the atudents and faculty, resulting in the expulsion of about fifty of the former. The circumstances of the case, as we learn from deliable source, are as follows.

On Monday night a concert of some kind cume off at the village of Gambler, which was attended by the feshmen and sephmonre classes in a body. After the concert was out, it being comewhat late, the students of both classes got together and resolved that they would not recite on the following morning, feeling, perhaps, that the task of getting their lessons would be too nuch for thair delicate constitutions. The whole of the sophomore class, and a great portion of the freshmen, entered into this compact. The next morning, as the two classes failed to make their appearance in their recitation rooms, an explanation enaused, which, of course, rendered the faculty "wroth to a degree." The feeling on the subject was intensited, perhaps, from the fact that the same blied pleasantry hadcen played off by the students on several previous occasions.

They resolved to prevent such proceedings in

They resolved to prevent such proceedings in the future, and called upon all those who had catered into the compact so bostie to the rules of the College, to bind themselves by a solemn pledge not to repeat the performance. The penalty of a relasal to comply was expulsion. A few only of the freshmen, and but four of the suphomorea, signed the pledge; the remainder refused to do it, and the consequence via 4, that on Wednesday wight three-quarters of the freshmen, and all but four of the sophomorea, were expelled. Our information asystem is a good deal of excilement among the students in regard to the frankection.—Sandus is Register. 3d.

We nederstand that the two lower classes are disminsed, and that the imperious and nursiancies of the Junior and Senior Glasses are now in taig themselves up in the easter, so that the adjair shreetens to sever many in those Classes from the College. As we see the matter, the question is, shall the Faculty rule, or shall the Students; of course the former mans, or disciplined. They resolved to prevent such proce

But capital cannot always hold har away and must yield to the patient plodding of the mechanic. Her useful implements cannot always be dressed up in the costly trappings of expensive show to place them beyond the reach of those who would be benefitsed by their use.

Sich list been the history of the sawing machine, and now, with valuable improvements added, it is presented at a price within the reach of all. The sawing of the farmer's household is now but a pheasant task; as compared with the hand needle. At my side is a maghine that theret tires. It is always ready to do the bidding of busy feet and ready hands, the work of half a score of busy severa and yet its cost is but forsy-two dollars with its various apphinnees of "Guage" and "Hermer." It will "stitch, bind, hem, fell, took, gather and embroider." In the multiplicity of coepa machines there are namy of course perfectly worthless and others of little-wise. According to a correspondent of the Roston Post, nos in Africa. In people there have some carious ideas on religious questions:

"The chief objects of worship in Whydah; are sanke-bonise which laved to go often to see. The sankes are of the boa spacies, and are from the total the sankes are of the boa spacies, and are from the total fifteen feet in length. You can almost always see them ensuring: about the sit cets. When the natives see them, they fall down almost always see them ensuring: about the sit cets. When the natives see them, they fall down almost always see them ensuring: about the printed earth. They are perfectly harmles, as I have often seen the matter take them up and earty them back to the feliah house. It is not at all unifrequent to find them on the matalong: side of you in the moraling, as the buts are without doors. I had my lodgings in white was once an English fort, but is now in ruding and is a favorite resort for snakes. I never found one in my room, but one moraling, upon looking in the room adjoining mine. I found one almost swen feet long. The nomities for killing orre is for a white persons sho price of sixty slaves, now $4.200. Fra native, he is short up in a hamboo house, and then the house it set on fire. QUERU'S

"Cattle Breeding," by Dr. G. B. Loring, of Essex county, Massachusetts. An octiline sketch of the character was given in our report of the delly proceedings of the acciety, but the following remarks on the improved horse of the United States we think worthy of being given in full. The attentive reader will remember, however, that Dr. Loring's views as to the non-importation of foreign stock horses were shly controverted, and particularly by Benjamin O. Taylor, Esq., of Washington.

Extract from the Paper of John B. Loring—The American treiting horse is an animal after his own kind; and I venture to say unequaled by any horse on the face of the earth in all that makes such an animal truly valuable for all kinds of work. It takes true equine genius to make a trotting horse. His mechanism must be as well balanced and as aymetrical as a locomotive. Propelled as he is by one quarter at a time, his progress is the result of nerve, and strugth, and decision, unknown and utterly ignored in that leaping and hounding motion, where one and follows the other, as is the case of the running horse of the English turf. He must be solid in his foot, strong in his limb, firm in his back, free and eavy in his stride, and above all things, caim and collected amidst all those trials of the track and the road which itend to throw him off his balance and reduce him to the level of the bear, shd the fox, and the grey-hound, and the English race-horse, roanning heter-skelter in a natural manner, without the exercise of any faculties except those with which mater endows the coward when he flies from danger or conflict. The American trotter requires bones, and muscles, and breams. And when he stands high in the list he has them all. For comprositions of form and essee of motion of a trength, endurance, and asgecity, he is uncaused.

Now we have this animal as the hastural pro-Collections solicited and prospects remitted promptly on the other payment, less current exchange only. Established in annuary, 1656.

For compactness of form and sease of motion, for strength, endurrance, and asgacity, he is uncounted.

Now we have this animal as the natural product of our farms. I know not how it has dime to pass, but it is a fact that the farmer's horse in New England is peculiar to himself, and is peculiarly an American institution. He may be descended from the thoroughbred, for saything that can be said to the contrary; but the farther he is removed from that rather equivoer! class of animals the more truly does he become a trotter. I look upon him as one result of that social and civil equality which in our own country make one man's time as valuable as anothers, and which authorizes the farmer's hoy to take the road from the squire, or the parson, or the doctor, whenever his coit can do it. Every man in this country who can keep a horse wants a good one, and when he has got him, he wants to avail himself of his horse's powers to make the distance between the mill or the meetinghouse and his own home as short as possible. We all drive on the road; and this, combined unite beding and soil, has given New England her valuable race of trotters.

It is because we have already what we want in the way of horses that I am opposed to the introduction of foreign blood among them. Our customs and modes of life, together with perhaps a for tunate outset and certain matural advantages, have preduced for us better horses than we can import. If this were the case is regard to our cattle, I should entertain the same opinion with regard to them. But it is not so We have, partly by accident and parrily by de sige, beca engaged for yoars in dewoloping a race of trotting horses. But we have not de veloped races of eatile peculiarly adapted to the dary and the shambles. That work is still be fore us. And we can only accomplish it by obtaining such animals whenever they can be fourselses.

The two mates of the American Bark Anna, previously reported under arrest upon the charge of having caused, the death of six colored seamen by cruel treatment, had been brought up before the magistrates at Newport, late of Wight. Evidence of great cruelty was addeed, but it is asserted for the defence that the men died from the effects of yellow fever, which had prevailed on board the vessel. The American Minister having sent a protest against the jurisdiction of the court, the magistrates had to dismiss the charge. This protest was accompanied with the request that the magistrates would detain the defendants until the matter could be equaired into by the American Conani, so that they might be remitted to their own country, under the extradition treaty. The magistrates considered that they could not hold the accused without a formal requisition, and they were accordingly discharged. The mates had to be conveyed to their ship under protection of police, for lear of the fury of the mob.

Another case of cruelty on board of the American ship Wizard King, which resulted in the death of the victim, had undergone an investing adion before the Coroner is London. The jury in their verdict sists exhaustion to have been the eather with gross and cruel neglect.

He carried me several rods to a dark alley, and started down this. Here they pansed, and I put the question, What is this for? The reply was, For your d—d villainous sentiments. Here the pean was changed, and I was taken into the atrect. Previous to this, my person had been carefully searched, and no weapons found.

Tery now commenced taking off my clothes in a very rough maener, and I was soon partially ands. Here I again, with all the force I could command, put the question, What is this for? I had repeated the question several times, but to no purpose. The answer now was, For your d—d Abolition sentiments. In a clear, distinct voice, I said, Shew me the man who can say I have approached him or endeavored to force my acatiment upon him. If he is here, let him speak. Silence, for once, religned in the mob. The mas was not to be found.

Unce of "bang him!" "shoot him!" were interspersed throughout the exercises. An iron vessel containing nearly a galion of tar was brought, which I judged from the appearance to be mearly, or quite, boiling but. Some one here asked the question:

Messrs. Giddings. Plumb and Dr. Howe appeared before the Harper's Ferry Investigating Committee to day. Mr. Giddings attated his wish to be examined without delay, and the Committee policily consented. He stated his presumption that a note submitted to him was written at the time indicated by the date. Its object was to answer a letter from John Brown intermining that he would be in Andover; and could lecture in Jefferson, where Giddings will introduced to Brown, and consented as to arranging matters for a lecture next day. He was not engaged more than three minutes on this subject, being indisposed to any conference concerning the dollars and cents, but told Brown to come and lecture. Brown did so the following afternoon, in a charch where Giddings werships.

The Senate Printing Investigation Committee met this morning. Mr. Weadell underwant an examination of upwards of three hours. It appears that some at wear or eight persons were interested in the public printing, vitz. Steedman, Banks, McLean, Walker, Rice, Severns and Bowman. He stated that he had paid out during the past three years, over $100,000 for party support to newspapers and in sid of the election expenses, in Pennsylvania principally, but extending over New Jersey, New York, Maryland, Ohio, &c. Considerable had been paid by official authority, and some of his own free will. He also stated that by the action of the Senate in electing Bowman, who had given the work to Blair and Rives, he had been left penniless with the largest establishment in the Union lying idia.

Mr. Bowman's conduct towards Mr. Wendell was shown up in a very bad light. Mr. Bowman, it appears, has given part of the work to Mr. Jewest, editor of the Fillmore organ at Buffalo.

A. D. Banks and Jo. Sever a were also ex-STEAM TO IRELAND, ENG. "Did you not say that you could drive the Germantown military company with four men?" I replied, "No, it is a lie, and whoever tells it tells a lie."

W. H. Worthington, a very efficient member of the mob, began to releot, and was in favor of giving me a chance to run the gauntiet, if I would promise to leave the State in fifteen days, &c.

I told them I could make no premises. Elijah Savage and Dr. Holton here came into the mob at my call, and endeavored to reason with them. Wm. Herod also came and did good service. Dr. John A. Cobarn now came in, and saked, as he was a gray haired man, that they should lis-Diand, and Scotland for $30.

He says: Boys, spare our town from the disgrace of a mob. Next Monday the gray-haired men will meet at Brooksville to consider this matter. I will venture to say if the old men request this man to leave he will do so. He made several other remarks and the wild farry of the mob seemed to abate for a moment. Dr. Holton and Mr. Blackburn gathered my clothes about me, and commenced moving me out of the crowd.

We had proceeded but a short distance when the mob came running and screaming. Dr. Coburn succeeded in restraining them to some exient, yet they passed him and came on. Mr. Herod stepped between me and the mob and said with great firmness. "Whi to tuches Mallet comes over me." Dr. Holton, John Blackburn, and Wm. Herod, attended me to my boarding place, and to them, in connection with Dr. Coburn and Mr. Savage, is deservedly stripluted the honor of taking me from the hands of the mob. They displayed remarkable courage, and no doubt saved my list.

The mob acknowl dged their number to have been sixty two, but it is generally supposed that the number, including those who aided and abetted, was eighty or more. The men were highly excited with whisky, and are rather to be pitited than condemned. PLOUR -The Paris four market was dull and sai Wheat quiet but strady. GILBERT A.
